

“Nicole delivered the perfect presentation to start our High School Aviation STEM Symposium off on the right note. She immediately connected to our educators by telling personal stories about how her teachers inspired her. Her presentation was engaging, thought-provoking, and inspiring. Our participants left with a lot of excitement and enthusiasm to make a difference for their students and I attribute much of the atmosphere that was developed on the first night to Nicole’s wonderful keynote. She was wonderful to work with, was well prepared, and spent a lot of time with our participants after her presentation.” Cindy Hasselbring, Senior Director, AOPA High School Aviation Initiative
